

MEMBERSHIP:

Your Voice in Packaging Policy

Who is AMERIPEN?

AMERIPEN is the trade association representing the packaging industry – including material suppliers, packaging converters, brands, retailers, end-of-life material managers, and affiliated trade associations, and serving as the leading voice on packaging policy in the United States.

AMERIPEN is advocating for responsible packaging policy that strengthens the role of packaging in product protection, advances sustainability, and supports industry growth as well as consumer needs.

AMERIPEN represents the entire packaging value chain with a unified industry voice that is not limited to any one material, format, or market. Our trusted, collaborative approach centers on policy solutions that work for the entire industry.

Engage with us:

Our strength comes from the active involvement of our dedicated members, whether through regular committee and work group meetings, advocacy opportunities like legislative fly-ins, or participation in AMERIPEN's Annual Summit.

Member benefits include:

- Intelligence – Anticipate emerging risks and opportunities for your organization with timely insights on packaging policy
- Influence – Help shape future legislation and regulation at the state and federal levels
- Networking – Participate in the Annual Summit, the only event in the U.S. focused on packaging policy, including representatives from the entire packaging value chain
- Learning – Join webinars and receive reports focused on packaging policy and sustainability

Why should your organization join AMERIPEN now?

- Customers, members, leadership, board, and investors see packaging and packaging-related policy as a growing priority
- Packaging-related policy directly impacts a company's business operations and costs
- Understanding policy can provide insights to guide R&D and future packaging innovation
- Engagement through AMERIPEN helps mitigate risks and promotes business resilience for companies

Questions?

Please contact Membership & Engagement Director Rob Keith at robk@ameripen.org.
For more information, please visit ameripen.org/join.